

Download How To Record Message On Att Answering Machine

If you want to leave a message on the answering machine of another user, do the following process. Type a phone number, listen to the greeting message and record your message after listening to the sound of the beep. As a rule, it should not last long (not more than 10-15 seconds). Leave a message and hang up. An answering machine is a device which will answer the phone on your behalf after a certain number of rings. It will play a recorded message for your callers before it is ready to record their message.
